PLAYS AND PLAYERS

 "The Late Mr. Allen," and will be presented by Miss Lida McMillan, who was the original "College Widow" in New York and London. The playlet is by Bozeman Hulger and this season is Miss McMillan's first in vaudeville. Howard and North are names to conjure with in vaudeville. They will be remembered for their splendid work in "Those Were the Happy Days" and "Back to Wellington." The demand for these charming sketches was so great it was decided that Mr. Howard present one and Mr. North the other, and it fell to Mr. Howard's lot to offer "Those Were the Happy Days" and Bert Snow was engaged to play the opposite role. Lawrence Johnston, a ventriloquist who emerged from obscurity to the very top of his profession, will delight audiences twice a day with his remarkable powers and his dummy figure that seems to be alive. A character comedy with athletic trimmings will be the offering of the Reed Brothers, clever and eccentric gymnasts. They call their act "The Eccentric Walker," and it serves to portray their skill in feats of strength and agility with a dash of comedy that would be hard to excel. A kilted Scot, with a real Scotch dialect and a fund of good stories may always be counted upon to furnish wholesome entertainment. Sidney Baxter not only has the dialect and the stories, but he wears the kilts, does some amazing tricks on a slack wire, and is assisted by a charming Scotch lassie. The Edison moving talking pictures will furnish another diversion on the capital bill.

"Isn't it funny?"

"Shoot."

"The Greeks didn't do much in the Olympic games, but"—

"Say on."

"They shine in America."—California Pollican.

"They say," remarked the old maid, "that widows who cry the most are the first to remarry."

"Well," rejoined the old bachelor, "there's nothing like wet weather for transplanting."

MAXIMS OF AN EXPERIENCED HOUSEWIFE.

Never let your husband get the idea that the money he hands you for household expenses is an "allowance."

It is important to make a right start in married life. A wife should not make the mistake of assuming that it is her business to look after the furnace.

It is well to wash the children's faces when they need it, but if the youngsters are boys it is idle to indulge in the hope that you can keep them clean.

As between boys and girls there is not much difference in the expense of raising them. A girl's finery may cost more, but a boy eats more food.

A breath of Havana in every La Tasador smoke. Learn to ask for it.

ADVICE TO THE FAT.

Sleep but little, never eat
Anything that's fat or sweet.
Shun tobacco, alcohol;
Eat potatoes not at all.
Beans, rice pudding, pie abhor,
Never pass your plate for more.
With you meals no water take,
Walk until your muscles ache.
Exercise an awful lot,
Especially if the weather's hot.
Hungry always leave the table.
Eat as little as you're able.
If you're really faint for food,
Unbattered toast is very good;
Of if that does not suffice,
Two or three stewed prunes are nice.
Milk and cream you must taboo,
Sugar in your coffee, too.
Try this plan two months or three,
And I'll give my guarantee
The advice I give is true,
And you'll lose a pound or two.
